Dear Ms. Dunn:

On behalf of the Household & Commercial Products Association (HCPA) and its 250 member companies, I would like to congratulate you on your recent confirmation as Assistant Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

HCPA is the premier trade association representing the interests of companies that manufacture, formulate, distribute and sell $180 billion annually of familiar household and commercial products that help consumers and workers to create cleaner and healthier environments. HCPA member companies employ nearly 200,000 people in the U.S. Products HCPA represents include disinfectants that kill germs in homes, hospitals and restaurants; candles, and fragrances and air fresheners that eliminate odors; pest management products for home, garden and pets; cleaning products and polishes for use throughout the home and organizations; products used to protect and improve the performance and appearance of automobiles; aerosol products and a host of other products. Through its product stewardship program, Product Care®, and scientific and business-to-business endeavors, HCPA provides members a platform to effectively address issues regarding the health, safety and sustainability of their products.

HCPA and its members enthusiastically advocated for the passage of the Frank R. Lautenberg Chemical Safety for the 21st Century Act in 2016 and are very interested in the ongoing implementation of the Lautenberg Act and other Toxic Substances Control Act regulations by the EPA. Our members are also strong supporters of EPA's Safer Choice program and other initiatives to promote the use of safe, sustainable products. We truly look forward to working with you and your staff to address the most pressing public policy concerns of the industry, especially in the areas of health, safety, and sustainability. If you have any questions about our industry or member companies, please contact Owen Caine, HCPA's Executive Vice President, Government Relations & Public Policy, at 202-833-7310.

Sincerely,
