HCPA Honors Seven Outstanding Leaders for Volunteer Service to the Association

The Volunteer Recognition Awards Highlight Outstanding Work in Service to One of the Seven HCPA Product Divisions.

Fort Lauderdale, FL - The Household & Commercial Products Association (HCPA) has awarded seven individual member company executives with Volunteer Recognition Awards honoring their outstanding work in one of HCPA's seven product divisions. The awards were presented during the opening session held at XPAND 2018, HCPA's Annual Meeting.

"The leadership, expertise and resources of our member company volunteers cannot be understated and it is how we can most effectively leverage and amplify the power of the association," Steve Caldeira said. "HCPA is very grateful for each winner's leadership, support and service to our industry."

HCPA is pleased to announce the following winners:

HCPA Air Care Products Division, Wendy Kennedy, Global Air Care and North America Home Care Senior Communications Manager, The Procter & Gamble Company
